Ibrahim - WITCH 2: In thunder, lightning or in rain?

Ammar - WITCH 3: When the hurlyburly's done! When the battle's lost and won!

Hussain - WITCH 1: That will be 'ere the set of sun.

Stage lights up on the Chorus with music, one half rebels – Hashim with the banner, the others King Duncan's troops – Abdul with the banner.

AUDIO CUE 2 SONG - SONIC BATTLE (Backing track)

DUNCAN'S MEN: For Duncan and Scotland! Kill the rebels! Smash the invaders! Chase them back to Norway!

DUNCAN'S MEN: Scotland! Scotland!

The two forces engage in battle: one side holding aloft Duncan's banner, the other the Norwegian standard. Then, fighting to the front of the King's troops, appear Macbeth and Banquo. Back to back, armed with swords, they face a group of rebels. They fight, the music growing in volume, mixed with war-cries.

HALF (REBELS): Norway! Norway!

Until, finally, the entire rebel chorus back away, their standard dragging. Duncan's men jeer them off. After a moment, with the loyal soldiers congratulating each other round Duncan's banner, they also leave centre stage.

BANQUO: Macbeth! The Norwegians and the rebels run!

MACBETH: The battle is over - and won!

BANQUO: The day is yours and Scotland's. Macbeth sheaths his sword.

Abdul - MACBETH: Banquo! I have never seen such a day ... so foul ... and so fair.

Khadija - BANQUO: Aye, it's strange all right. How far is it now to the King?

Banquo turns, freezes and looks at the Witches. He taps Macbeth's arm. They draw swords.

Khadija - BANQUO: What are you? (To Macbeth) They don't look human! (To Witches) Are you spirits?

Abdul - MACBETH: No! That cannot be! Get away from me!

Ibrahim - WITCH 2: Lesser than Macbeth ... and greater.

Ammar - WITCH 3: Not so happy ... yet much happier!

Hussain - WITCH 1: Your children will be kings.

Ibrahim - WITCH 2: But you will never be.

ALL WITCHES: So hail Macbeth and Banquo! They turn to go.

Abdul - MACBETH: Wait! How can I be Thane of Cawdor? He's still alive! And king, that's just unbelievable...

Abdul - MACBETH: (To Banquo) The witches. What they said has come true! Could the next step be the throne itself? Could I become ... King?

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: No use. He's too fast. Gone. We'll never catch him.

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: Hmm. That's not good. There's a feast for the King tonight. We'll have to tell him there.

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: That'll spoil his party.

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: I hope it doesn't spoil ours too. (Going) Come on... The Assassins trudge back up the path.

A banquet has been prepared. Seated are Ross, Lennox and various noblemen and ladies.

Kasim - NARRATOR: Dunsinane Castle ... and the feast to celebrate Macbeth's coronation...

Sadiyah - SERVANT: All rise for the King and Queen!

Enter Macbeth and Lady Macbeth, regally. The guests stand and clap them.

ALL: Macbeth! Macbeth! Macbeth!

Macbeth leads Lady Macbeth to a seat, then motions the clapping to stop. He leans against an empty seat between Lady Macbeth and Lennox.

Abdul - MACBETH: My lords and ladies, welcome! Tonight we will forget the sad past and think only of the future. So eat, drink and enjoy!

As the lords and ladies take their seats at the table a servant comes to Macbeth and whispers in his ear.

Sadiyah - SERVANT: My lord...

Abdul - MACBETH: Yes, what is it?

Sadiyah - SERVANT: The two ... gentlemen ... they have returned.

Abdul - MACBETH: What!

Sadiyah - SERVANT: They wish to speak with you. Over there, by the door.

Abdul - MACBETH: (To the servant) Ah, yes. (To all) Some urgent business I must deal with. I shall return. Macbeth walks over to the far side of the hall where the Assassins wait in the shadows.

Abdul - MACBETH: Idiots! There's blood on your face.

The Assassins take out hankies and wipe each other's faces.

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: Not mine.

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: Or mine.

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: It's Banquo's.

Abdul - MACBETH: Good. Better on you than in him. Is he dead?

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: Snick snack.

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: Clickety-clack.

Abdul - MACBETH: Excellent! What about the boy, Fleance?

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: Ah.

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: Well.

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: Bit of a problem there...

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: It was very dark...

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: And the light went out...

Ayan - ASSASSIN 2: And unfortunately...

Fatimah - ASSASSIN 1: ...the boy escaped.

Abdul - MACBETH: What? You let him go? Fools! Idiots!

While this is happening Banquo can slip into a vacant place at the table next to Lennox, his back to the audience.

Abdul - MACBETH: Never mind, at least Banquo's dead. And we can sort the boy out tomorrow. Now get out of here!

ASSASSINS: (Going) Your Majesty.

The Assassins leave.

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: My royal lord! What are you doing in the shadows there? Come, join us. We need our host!

Abdul - MACBETH: Of course, my lady. (He pauses) But the table's full...

Maliha - LENNOX: Here's a place, sir.

Abdul - MACBETH: Where, Lennox?

Maliha - LENNOX: Here, my good lord. Lennox gestures to the seat next to him (now occupied by Banquo).

Banquo turns, his face smeared with blood. Macbeth staggers back.

Abdul - MACBETH: Which one of you has done this?

LORDS AND LADIES: My lord, what's the matter?

Banquo steps forward.

Abdul - MACBETH: Get away from me! I didn't do it! It wasn't me!

Iman - ROSS: Gentlemen, rise - the King is not well.

Lady Macbeth rises and goes to Macbeth's side.

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: Please, everyone, stay. This is just ... an illness. The King has suffered from it since he was a boy. Don't worry, it will go away. (Whispering to Macbeth) What's wrong with you? Are you a man or what?

Abdul - MACBETH: Can't you see it? The devil himself would be scared.

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: Oh, yes! Like the dagger in the air you told me about. Look, it's just a stool! You're seeing things.

The ghost disappears.

Abdul - MACBETH: What? It's gone!

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: It was never there!

Abdul - MACBETH: No? Right. (To all) Please, everybody, forgive me. I am not myself this evening. We shall have a toast!

All rise, obscuring the table.

ALL: A toast! A toast!

Abdul - MACBETH: To absent friends.

Maliha - LENNOX: To Banquo!

Abdul - MACBETH: Yes, why not? To Banquo!

ALL: To Banquo!

They drain their glasses and return to their seats (revealing Banquo again). He turns to Macbeth and raises his glass.

Abdul- MACBETH: Argh! It's here again! Get back to your grave, you fiend!

Macbeth draws his sword and swats the air. The other lords rise again, some try and comfort him as he backs away. Banquo uses the cover again to disappear. Macbeth leans against the wall, shaking, staring...

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: My lords, ladies. I'm sorry, the King is not well. Please, leave us now. Good night.

The guests exit, confused and concerned.

ALL: Goodnight.

Macbeth sits, weary. Lady Macbeth joins him.

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: You need sleep, my Lord.

Abdul - MACBETH: Macduff wasn't here tonight. Did you notice?

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: Macduff? What are you talking about?

Abdul - MACBETH: He's plotting I'm sure. Tomorrow, I'll go to the Weird Sisters again, find out what else is in store. This isn't over. I've stepped in so much blood it's easier now to spill more than to go back.

Aminah - LADY MACBETH: Come. Let's get some sleep.

They exit.
